Hangman's Curse is based on a novel by Christian Author, Frank Peretti. It takes place at a high school where students, particularly popular students become ill as a result of revenge from the ghost of a student named Able Frye. Able had hung himself at the school because he was unable to cope with the abuse and persecution from the other students.

Frank Peretti plays a part in the movie as an eccentric scientist looking for a scientific cause for the illnesses.

This movie does not promote the paranormal but to the contrary sends a message to not open the door to communicating with the other side. Without giving away too much, this story is not against Christian teachings. Although it doesn't flatly proclaim the Gospel message or give scriptural lessons, it does show the central characters as being people of faith who openly pray to God. At the end of the movie, one of the characters, who is on death's doorstep, calls out to Jesus.

This is a scary movie yes, because of the unknown elements, and because there are plenty of spiders in it, but it is not your typical gory, spooker, which are prominent in this genre of movie. It is a cool, groovie, movie, and shouldn't be a concern for Christian parents to allow their kids to see.

The purpose of First Baptist Church Movie Night is to present teens and tweens with productions that have Christian content. Kids from any church and un-churched kids are welcome. Admission is free and we provide free popcorn and drinks. It is not our intent to entice your kids into our church. We just feel there is a need to offer non-secular entertainment which, whenever possible promotes the Gospel and Christian principals.

All teens are also welcome to attend our youth group on Wednesday at 6:30 PM. First Baptist Church is located at 836 Central Avenue near Willowbrook Avenue, in Dunkirk.

But Jesus said, "Let the little children come to Me, and do not forbid them; for of such is the kingdom of heaven." Matthew 19:14 (NKJ Version)
